Details of Notice:

Based on customer feedback, ATEK Access Technologies has redesigned its clear plastic tray used to ship Datakey receptacles. The new tray offers several improvements making it easier to pick and place Datakey SlimLine board-mount receptacles directly from the tray. The new tray design is sturdier, sits level on a flat surface and offers improved ESD performance. The new tray design also eliminated two blank positions, allowing pick-and-place machines to pick parts from every position. Eliminating the two blank positions means that the new tray will hold up to 27 receptacles, where the old tray would hold 25. Please note that it is not a requirement to order in multiples of 27. When more than 27 receptacles are ordered, a tray will be completely filled before filling the next tray. For example, an order for 100 receptacles would come in four trays. Three would be filled with 27 receptacles per tray, with the fourth tray only containing 19 receptacles. If you wish to only receive full trays, be sure to order in multiples of 27.

Only the part numbers shown above will utilize the new trays. Panel-mount SlimLine receptacles will now ship in a corrugated box with a custom insert, as described in Product Change Notification 20160803-1.

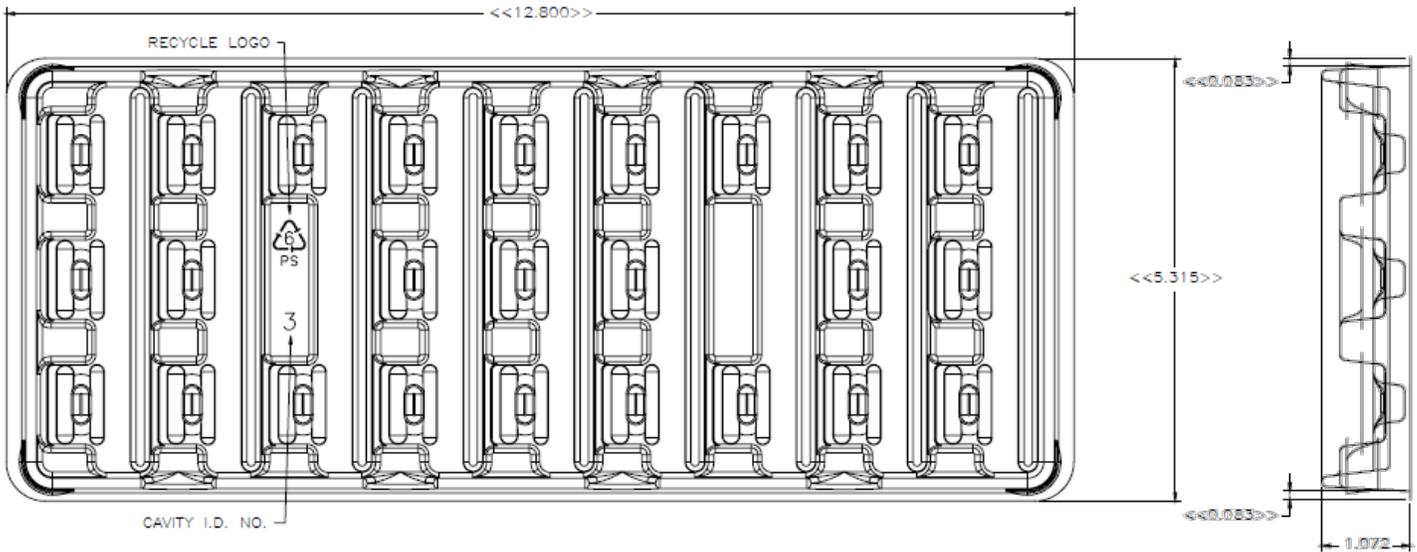

For reference, dimensioned drawings of the old plastic trays and the new plastic trays are shown below.

Old Tray - 12.8" x 5.3" x 1.1" (below):

- 25 Receptacles Per Tray
- 9 rows x 3 columns (2 blanks)

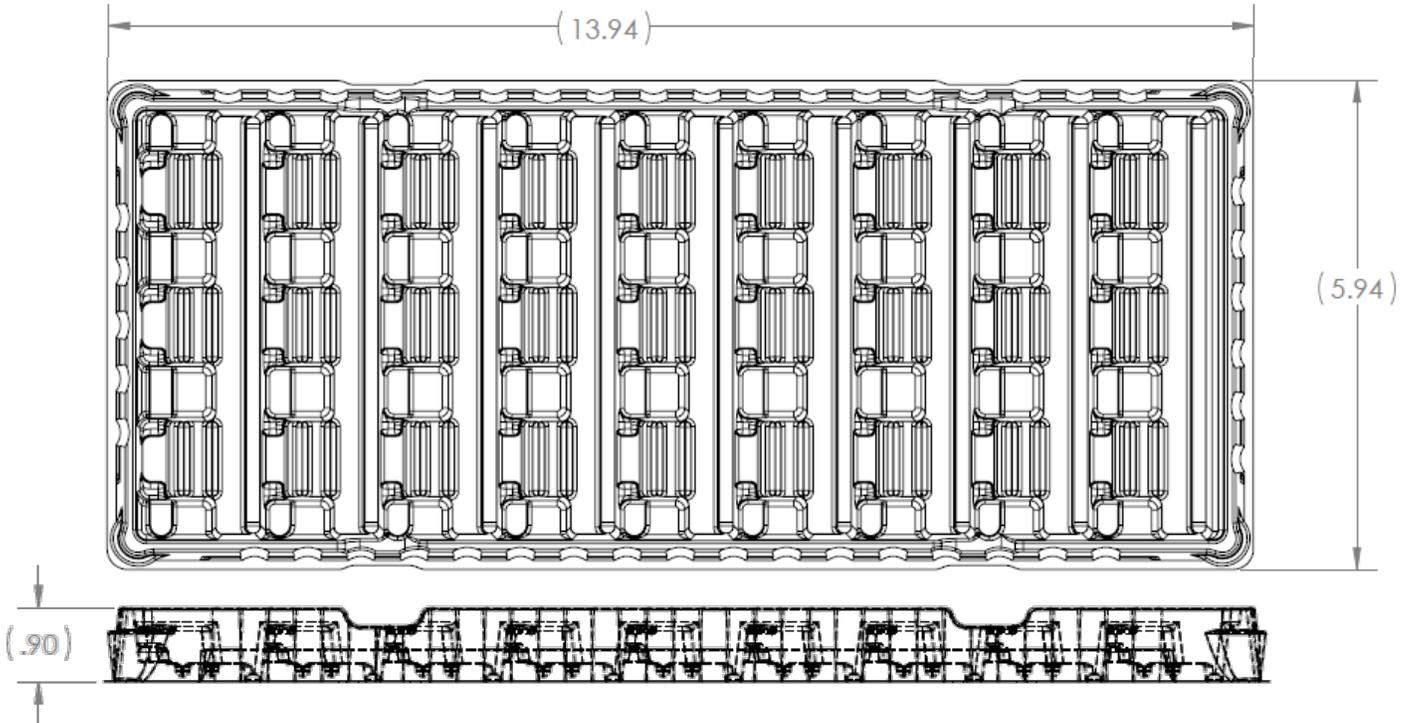

The power of memory. Secured.

New Tray - 13.9" x 5.9" x 2.0" (below):

- 27 Receptacles Per Tray
- 9 rows x 3 columns
